Welcome Greetings to the Graduates

The pomp and ceremony of convocation exercises formally mark an important life transition for you, our graduates. Surrounded by proud families, friends, teachers and mentors, you may now move forward with confidence, having earned our admiration and praise.

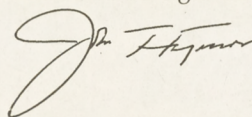

Each of you submitted to a rigorous intellectual path and each has proved worthy. Today, you mark an important milestone in your life while we, your community, mark an important one in ours. Ninety-seven years ago, the University of Alberta was founded on a scrubby piece of riverbank by men and women who believed this province should be built on a foundation of knowledge.

At that time, our founding president, Henry Marshall Tory, promised that the knowledge within these walls would not remain here, but would flow forever outward in service to our community. Today, you join more than 190,000 University of Alberta alumni worldwide in fulfilling that promise.

Since 1908, our community has grown beyond the borders of Alberta to encompass the world in one global community. Learning to live peacefully and prosperously in this community will require leaders and citizens of vision, commitment and drive. More than ever, the world needs leaders and citizens like the people you have become.

While today may seem like an ending, it is not. Today is the beginning of the next leg of your journey. You will continue to grow and to learn and you will continue to be a life-long member of the University of Alberta community.

Welcome and Congratulations.

John T Ferguson, FCA, LLD (Hon)
Chancellor

Universities began as small collections of scholars who worked together to preserve and advance knowledge. Students came to study with them and, in due course, an administrative structure arose to provide system and recognition for those studies. This ancient structure is preserved at the University of Alberta, with the faculty and the students providing the core of the University's purpose: teaching and the advancement of knowledge.

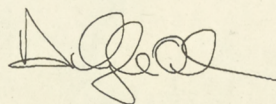

The faculty and staff congratulate you, the graduates, on the successful completion of your present studies which is recognized by the degrees to which you are admitted today. We hope your present knowledge provides a sound base for an education which will continue throughout a rewarding life. To quote Honorary Degree Recipient Tommy Banks: "Try to be a good person. You will be amazed how rewarding it is."

Congratulations from the Faculty and Staff!

During the past few years, you have dedicated a great deal of time and effort to reach this important milestone—your convocation from the University of Alberta. Through that hard work, you have not only earned your degree, but you have laid the foundation upon which you will build your future.

I hope you look back fondly at your university days with a sense of pride and accomplishment. Remember this achievement when you tackle the challenges that lie ahead, whether they be in the work force, further education, or personal endeavours. Your post secondary education is a key that will open many doors for you. It's also proof that if you set your mind to something, the end goal will never be out of your reach.

On behalf of the Government of Alberta, I congratulate all of the University of Alberta's graduates from the Class of 2004. The future is yours. My best wishes to each of you for continued success no matter which path you choose.

Dr Lyle Oberg, Minister
Alberta Learning

Congratulations Honorary Degree Recipient

James E Carter

Mr James (Jim) Carter of Fort McMurray, Alberta, President and Chief Operating Officer of Syncrude Canada Ltd, is a remarkably visionary business and community leader.

He holds a Bachelor of Engineering Degree in Mining Engineering from the Technical University of Nova Scotia (1973) and is a graduate of the Advanced Management Program at Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. After graduation he held progressively responsible management positions at McIntyre Mines Ltd and the Iron Ore Company of Canada. He began his career with Syncrude in 1979 as Manager of Overburden Operations and was subsequently promoted to Vice-President of Administration (1987) and President and Chief Operating Officer (1997).

Under Mr Carter's leadership, Syncrude has introduced numerous new technologies and processes at the mine face and within the plant that have resulted in both incremental and revolutionary advances in productivity as well as in safety and environmental performance. Leading by example, he has also spearheaded and implemented innovative learning initiatives and skills upgrading opportunities within the company.

In addition to his major technological achievements in the natural resources industry, Mr Carter has led Syncrude's Aboriginal recruitment and community development efforts, through which Aboriginal youth are encouraged to complete their high school education and pursue post secondary education. The Syncrude Aboriginal Careers Initiative has enabled Aboriginal students to complete degrees while maintaining their cultural, community and family connections. Largely through his efforts, Syncrude has become an international leader in the employment of Aboriginal people. More than 13% of Syncrude's workforce is comprised of people with Aboriginal backgrounds, and numerous Aboriginal-led companies have been created through Syncrude's work to increase capacity in the Aboriginal business community.

As Founding Chair of the Industry Advisory Committee at the University of Alberta School of Mining and Petroleum Engineering, Mr Carter plays a pivotal role in reviving and growing the University's Mining Engineering Program from one that was on the verge of extinction to one that is among the most prestigious in North America and the largest mining engineering graduate program in Canada.

Deeply dedicated to his industry and his community, he serves as Chair, Mining Association of Canada; Director, Alberta Research Council; Member, Board of Directors, Northern Lights Regional Health Foundation and Past Member, Board of Governors, Keyano College. He was a driving force in the development of the Vista Ridge recreation area, which provides recreation opportunities for all Fort McMurray and area residents.

In 1995, Mr Carter received an honorary degree from the Technical University of Nova Scotia and in 1999 he was presented with the Centennial Award, the highest honor bestowed by the Association of Professional Engineers, Geologists and Geophysicists of Alberta.

A role model, a successful businessperson, and a community-minded individual, James Carter's leadership and integrity are the marks of a dedicated industry and community visionary.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Mr James Carter:

Johann Georg Hoffmann and Johann Benjamin Bohmer. De Matricibus Metallorum... Leipzig, 1738.

In this interesting, very rare first edition, the authors consider the origin of metals and gems, the reason for the erratic distribution of metals and gems throughout the earth's crust, and the kinds of metals and gems found in various parts of the world. The finely engraved fold-out title page depicts a cross-section of a mine with shafts, machinery, and miners at work.

Congratulations Graduates

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

At the conclusion of this Vice-Regal Salute, the vocalist will lead the assembly in singing the National Anthem.

National Anthem

O Canada! Our home and native land!
True patriot love in all thy sons command.
Car ton bras sait porter l'épée, (With glowing hearts we see thee rise)
Il sait porter la croix! (The True North strong and free)
Ton histoire est une épopée (From far and wide, O Canada)
Des plus brillants exploits. (We stand on guard for thee)

Congratulations Honorary Degree Recipient

Arthur Kroeger

Mr Arthur Kroeger of Ottawa, Ontario is one of Canada's most accomplished public servants and one of the university's most distinguished alumni.

In a career spanning 45 years (34 in public service) he has contributed immeasurably to government, to public policy and to volunteerism across the country. Born near Consort, Alberta in 1932, Mr Kroeger studied English and French Literature at the University of Alberta (1955 BA) and, as a Rhodes Scholar, philosophy, politics and economics at Oxford University (1958 MA). Upon graduation from Oxford he joined the Canadian foreign service, serving in Geneva, Delhi, Washington, DC and Ottawa.

In 1971 he began his career in the domestic service by joining the Treasury Board Secretariat. Between 1975 and 1992 he served as Deputy Minister in a number of federal departments including Indian Affairs, Transport Canada, Energy, Mines and Resources and Employment and Immigration. While the range and complexity of this work may appear staggering, Mr Kroeger handled it deftly, offering his departments reliable and enlightened policy direction. Among his many accomplishments was steering the replacement of the Crowsnest Pass Agreement with modern grain transportation legislation. The issue was controversial, but Mr Kroeger earned the respect of all parties with his reasoned approach. His inspired leadership and distinguished service earned him the nickname "The Dean of Deputy Ministers", a title by which he is still known today, more than 10 years after his retirement. He was once described by The Financial Post as "an Ottawa rarity—a Westerner who rose to the top as a federal civil servant without losing touch with the folks back home."

After leaving public service in 1992, he remained engaged in a variety of activities in the service of his country. He served as visiting professor at the University of Toronto (1993-1994) and as a visiting fellow at Queen's University (1993-1997). He chaired the Public Policy Forum (1992-1994); served on the board of the Canadian Centre for Management Development (1996-2000); chaired the Ontario Minister's Electricity Transition Committee (1998-2000); was a member of the Panel on Accountability and Governance in the Voluntary Sector (1997-1999); and, served as Chancellor of Carleton University (1993-2002). He is currently Chair of the Board of the Canadian Policy Research Networks. Late last year his expertise was again requested when Prime Minister Martin called upon him to serve on his transition team.

A Companion of the Order of Canada and a recipient of the Prime Minister's Public Service Outstanding Achievement Award and a University of Alberta Distinguished Alumni Award, he holds honorary degrees from the universities of Western Ontario, Carleton and Calgary and is also an honorary fellow of Pembroke College, Oxford. In one of the best-deserved tributes to Mr Kroeger and his influence on Canadian public policy, Carleton University named its new program in public affairs and policy management after him. The Arthur Kroeger College of Public Affairs opened in 1999. Few Canadians have worked so hard, or devoted so much insight and energy to the betterment of their country.

As a University of Alberta graduate and a Rhodes Scholar, a child of rural Alberta and a nationally renowned policy-maker, Arthur Kroeger personifies the transformative power of the liberal arts. His intellectual curiosity and his devotion to the public good are an inspiration to all who know him.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Mr Arthur Kroeger:

John Palliser, Palliser's Papers. London: Printed by GE Eyre and W Spottiswoode for HMSO, 1859-1865.

These four volumes, in their original paper wrappers, contain the journals, detailed reports and observations of Captain Palliser who commanded a British government expedition sent to explore the region between the Red River and the Rocky Mountains and from the North Saskatchewan River to the American border, and across the Rockies. The goal was to assess the agricultural potential of the area and to advise on the practicability of a transcontinental railway. The expedition's reports and its comprehensive map were for many years the major source of information about the vast area of country between Lake Superior and the interior of British Columbia and are still of value to historians today.

Congratulations Graduates

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

Congratulations Honorary Degree Recipient

Nellie J Cournoyea

Ms Nellie Cournoyea of Tuktoyaktuk, Northwest Territories (NWT), has had an extraordinary career in public service and leadership in Canada's north.

Born in Aklavik, Ms Cournoyea began her career as a land claim fieldworker. During this time she was a founding member of the Committee of Original People's Entitlement which pursued a comprehensive land claim settlement between the federal government and the Inuvialuit of the Western Arctic. She insisted on an unprecedented consultation process with all Inuvialuit wherein she made sure every family fully understood the negotiations and the settlement being considered. The Inuvialuit Final Agreement stands as a landmark settlement between the Original People of the Western Arctic and the Government of Canada and serves as a foundation and framework for present and future generations of Inuvialuit.

In 1979 she was elected as a MLA (Nunakput) of the NWT. She served as a Minister for seven different portfolios including Health and Social Services, Renewable Resources and Culture and Communications. Ms Cournoyea became the first Aboriginal woman in Canada to lead a provincial or territorial government when she served as Premier of the Northwest Territories from 1991 to 1995.

In 1995 she left the Territorial Government to return to the Western Arctic to provide leadership and good governance within the Inuvialuit organization. In 1996 she was elected Chair and Chief Executive Officer of the Inuvialuit Regional Corporation (IRC) and has since been re-elected for a fifth term. IRC, with assets of $364 M, was established to receive the lands and financial compensation under the Inuvialuit Final Agreement. Directly controlled by the Inuvialuit population, it invests in its subsidiaries, which include development, investment, land and petroleum corporations, and represents collective Inuvialuit political interests.

In 2000, Ms Cournoyea became the founding Chair of the Aboriginal Pipeline Working Group and continues today as a member of its executive committee. This organization successfully negotiated a complex agreement that provides the foundation for meaningful aboriginal equity participation in the proposed Mackenzie Valley Pipeline. This multi-billion dollar project includes outstanding opportunities for aboriginal participation in numerous facets of this enterprise and also stands as a world-class example of cooperation between aboriginal groups and the energy industry.

A member of numerous not-for-profit boards and agencies, including Chair of the Mackenzie Delta Health and Social Services Board (1996-2003), her most recent success was ensuring the construction of the $30 M Inuvik Hospital. She is also a founding member of the Northern Games Society, which seeks to keep alive the traditional aboriginal games of Northern Canada. Her exceptional commitment to her people and to Canada's north has been recognized through a variety of awards and honors including a National Aboriginal Achievement Award (1994) and honorary doctorates from four universities.

An inspiring leader and a role model for all Canadians, Nellie Cournoyea is a true legend in Canada's north.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Ms Nellie Cournoyea:

Eskimo Folk-Tales. Collected by Knud Rasmussen. Edited and rendered into English by W Worster. With illustrations by native Eskimo artists. Copenhagen: Gyldendal, 1921.

The noted Inuit/Danish ethnographer who spent thirty years exploring the Arctic regions and conducting ethnological studies of Inuit life and culture collected this rare anthology of folk-tales. One of his most important achievements was to gather and document folk-tales, songs and poetry in order that they are available to a wider audience. There are only two recorded copies of this book in Canada and it will be a welcome addition to the Peel Library's Javitch Collection of Amer-Indian materials.

Congratulations Graduates

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

William H Comrie

Mr William (Bill) Comrie of Edmonton, is an outstanding Albertan who has been recognized as one of Canada's most successful businessmen.

Mr Comrie, the founder, owner, and chairman of the Brick Warehouse Corporation, was born in Winnipeg, Manitoba. His family moved to Edmonton when he was two years old. His father Herb, a furniture salesman, was one of the biggest influences in his life. However, it was sport in general, and hockey in particular, that consumed Mr Comrie in his youth. By the age of 16 he was playing junior hockey and was drafted by the Chicago Blackhawks. In 1969, while playing for the Edmonton Oil Kings, his father passed away. Mr Comrie left the world of hockey, and his life's dream, to support his family. His father had owned a small store called Alberta Factory Sales. Mr Comrie tried to sell the store but, receiving no offers, found two investors to purchase one half of the company. He then obtained a loan, put his car up as collateral, and purchased the other half of the business.

At 19 years of age, while attending a midnight drive-in movie, he came up with an idea that not only changed his life, but transformed business models and marketing strategies across North America. Mr Comrie was astonished at the number of people in attendance at that time of the night and he came up with the idea of opening his store at midnight. His partners thought he was crazy (at that time the store only drew two or three customers during the day) but he decided to test the idea. On the first night of "Midnight Madness" thousands of people lined up before the doors opened and the store rang up $144,000 in sales in two hours. To place this amount in perspective, his father's total sales, for the prior 12-month period, had been $120,000.

After this initial success, he asked his partners to expand the business but they declined. Since he did not have the funds to buy out his partners, he asked them to buy him out instead. They agreed, and with $8,000 in profit, he moved down the street and opened his own store, which eventually became known as the Brick Warehouse Corporation.

Today, the Brick is the largest furniture chain in Canada with over 75 locations and more than 5,000 employees. It expects to conduct more than $1 billion in sales this year alone. Mr Comrie's creative financing options, one of which allows customers to delay payments for over one year, broke new marketing ground and has since been adopted by scores of other major retailers in North America.

Deeply committed to his community, Mr Comrie was Chair of fund raising for the Stollery Children's Hospital. He is currently Chair of the $17 M Alberta Heart Institute Campaign and is a member of Alberta's Promise, a group that develops programs aimed at improving children's lives. He is a recipient of numerous awards, including the 2003 Alberta Venture Businessman of the Year.

Mr Comrie instilled his personal commitment to the community into The Brick's core values and today the company supports charitable organizations, community groups and sports across Canada, including The Support Network, the Canadian Breast Cancer Foundation, Compassion House, the Alberta Junior Hockey League, Sports Central and the CNIB. His commitment to both customer and employee satisfaction led to the National Post naming The Brick as one of Canada's 50 best-managed companies in both 2002 and 2003.

A titan in Edmonton's business community and a community leader extraordinaire, William Comrie's intellectual curiosity and creative drive have resulted in the establishment of one of the most ground breaking commercial enterprises in the country.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Mr William Comrie:

Jeffrey Morin, Sacred Space. Steven's Point, Wisc.: 2000. Number 39 of an edition of 35 copies, signed by the artist.

This visually stunning artist's book contains traditional book elements. It has a text, printed by letterpress, a process in which individual letters are set by hand. Morin has used reduction lino prints as well as typographic illustrations—over-printing letterforms to make a whole that is more than the individual letters. The book departs from tradition by including the "glass" chapel kit. To fully understand the book, one must locate all the parts and build the chapel in order to understand the printed book as part of the whole.

Congratulations Honorary Degree Recipient

Her Imperial Highness Princess Hisako Takamado

Her Imperial Highness Princess Hisako Takamado of Japan is a remarkable woman who has consistently stressed the importance of understanding and preserving the environment and of educating the world's children.

Her Imperial Highness was born in Tokyo, the first daughter of Mr and Mrs Shigejiro Tottori. She graduated from Girton College, Cambridge, United Kingdom, in 1975 with an MA (Hon) in Chinese Studies, Archaeology and Anthropology.

She married His Imperial Highness Prince Norihito, third son of Their Imperial Highnesses Prince Mikasa and Princess Mikasa on 6 December 1984. Upon their marriage Prince Norihito was granted the title Prince Takamado. Princess Takamado received the Grand Cordon of the Order of the Precious Crown on the same day.

Tragically, Prince Takamado passed away suddenly on 21 November 2002. A true friend of Canada, Prince Takamado studied for three years at Queen's University in Kingston, Ontario and was very active in and supportive of the Canada-Japan relationship.

Princess Takamado has published two children's books, Katie and the Dream Eater (1996) and Lulie the Iceberg (1998). Lulie the Iceberg was inspired by two trips to the Arctic and several years of active involvement with a number of ocean-related environmental projects. The Princess worked closely with the Icebridge Forum of Cambridge University, an organization of concerned educators and scientists that promotes knowledge of the oceans and the Polar Regions. The Lulie launch, which was held in New York City's Carnegie Hall, was supported by the UN missions of Argentina, Brazil, Denmark, Morocco, Portugal, Spain and Uruguay, nations that Lulie "visits" on his journey from pole to pole, and by the governments of Canada and Japan. The book was highly praised by UNICEF as a story that "...fire(d) the imagination and courage of children".

Her Imperial Highness, along with her late husband Prince Takamado, have been among the most nationally and internationally prominent members of the Japanese Imperial Family. Highly visible in their support for the performing arts, especially music and dance, they were also strong supporters of the environment and education. Through their work at the Japan Foundation and the English Language Speech Contest, they actively contributed to the promotion of international exchange.

Her Imperial Highness is Honorary Patron of the Japan National Student Association Fund, the Asiatic Society of Japan and the Asia Birdlife International Rare Bird Club. She is Honorary Vice-President of the Japanese Red Cross Society.

Their Imperial Highnesses visited Edmonton in 1999 when they attended the First International Congress on Telehealth and Multimedia Technologies, hosted by the University of Alberta. Today, the University's Centre for Excellence in Teaching Japanese Language and Culture, housed in the Faculty of Arts, continues to build on the important connections that were developed between Japan and the University of Alberta at that time.

Princess Takamado, through her local, national and international efforts, has inspired and encouraged global citizenship and the value of respect for others.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Her Imperial Highness, Princess Hisako Takamado:

Nicole Morello, Save Antarctica, 1998. Number 7 of an edition of 30 copies, signed by the artist.

This intriguing work consists of a folded leaf in an accordion binding which unfolds to display a multilevel ice landscape topped with a colony of tiny penguins. The names overprinted in deep black below the penguins' feet are a sampling of the numerous international research stations, which crowd the continent.

Congratulations Graduates

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

Thy legions march enrolled.

And ever hold thine honor dear.

Congratulations Installation of the Chancellor

Eric P Newell

On April 23, 2004 the University of Alberta elected corporate leader, businessman, and education advocate Eric P Newell, OC, LLD (Hon) as the eighteenth Chancellor of the University of Alberta, a position he will hold for four years.

Mr Newell is a retired Alberta business executive with a stellar history of corporate leadership and achievement, as well as an exemplary record of service to industry and community. He holds a Master of Science in Management Studies degree (1968), University of Birmingham, England and a Bachelor of Applied Science in Chemical Engineering degree (1967), University of British Columbia.

Mr Newell's career has taken him to Imperial Oil Limited and Esso Petroleum Canada but he is perhaps best known for his tenure at Syncrude Canada Ltd where he served for 14 years as the company's Chief Executive Officer (1989-2003) and for nine years as Chair (1994-2003). He also served as president from 1989 to 1997. Under his leadership, Syncrude, which is the world's largest producer of crude oil from oil sand, became a key player in the western Canadian economy, an increasingly significant source of energy supply for the entire nation, and a model of a reliably operated, environmentally efficient, socially responsible corporation. He retired from Syncrude in 2003.

Through a wide variety of national, regional and local affiliations, Mr Newell plays an active role promoting and creating opportunities for the wider community. He is well known for his successful and ongoing efforts to strengthen partnerships between education and business, and for championing corporate social responsibility.

Mr Newell served on the University of Alberta Board of Governors for six years (1996-2002), the last four of those years as the chair. He is an Officer of the order of Canada and has had honorary Doctorates conferred on him by the University of British Columbia (2003), the University of Alberta (2002) and Athabasca University (1995). He currently serves as: Chair, Careers: The Next Generation Foundation; Director, Nexen Inc; Director, Canfor Corporation; Director, Terasen Inc., Director, CD Howe Institute, and Policy Advisory to the Learning Partnership.

The Chancellor serves as the titular head of the University, chairs the Senate, serves as a member of the Board of Governors, represents the University at all ceremonial occasions and presides over convocation to confer all degrees. The Chancellor is a volunteer and acts as a liaison between the University and the community. The Senate is an independent, 62-member advisory body of community leaders that examines, fosters and celebrates the diversity and excellence of the University of Alberta.

Mr Newell succeeds Mr John Ferguson, FCA, LLD (Hon), the seventeenth Chancellor of the University of Alberta.

Congratulations Graduates

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

History of Convocation

In the eleventh century, a new vitality quickened all aspects of the civilization of Western Europe. The creative forces thus unleashed soon found expression in new institutions, and of these the university bids fair to be the most enduring. The modern university is the lineal descendant of the university of the Middle Ages. Its purposes and organization, even much of its ceremonial, are medieval in origin.

The medieval university was originally called a studium generale, that is, a place of learning to which teachers and students from anywhere resorted. The first studia were at Salerno, Bologna, and Paris. These came into existence spontaneously and developed through the twelfth century as the needs of the time and their inner necessities dictated. In the thirteenth century these spontaneous associations crystallized into guilds or corporations endowed by Church and State with specific privileges which guaranteed the internal autonomy necessary for the vocation of study. To these corporations was increasingly applied the word universitas denoting the entire group of those responsible for the transmission of higher learning and the pursuit of knowledge.

By the beginning of the 14th century, two forms of university organization had appeared. At Bologna, primarily a higher school of canon and civil law to which came men experienced in ecclesiastical and secular administration, the control of the studium generale passed to the students; hence Bologna was a universitas scholarum. On the other hand in Paris and Oxford, whose dominant faculty was the Faculty of Arts, the studium emerged under the direction of a guild of teachers, a universitas magistrorum. Through its own officials, notably the chancellor (once symbol of external control and by now of internal autonomy), the guild of teachers developed its courses of instruction, administered its own affairs and admitted to its company only those who had met its intellectual standards. The University of Alberta stands in the tradition of Paris and Oxford.

Originally the goal of the medieval student was certification by the guild of teachers that he also was qualified to teach (the licentia docendi). With the passage of time the student's progress through the curriculum was marked by ceremonies which signified his successful attainment of a certain level (gradus or in modern language, degree) of competence. The Bachelor had completed his apprenticeship in the Faculty of Arts. The Master was now qualified to teach in that Faculty and was thus incorporated into the universitas magistrorum. The Doctor was one who, having obtained the mastership, had successfully completed the curriculum of one of the "higher" faculties (in the Middle Ages, law, medicine, and theology) and was now qualified to teach in those faculties. Inevitably the degrees of the universitas did more than admit their holders to the teaching profession. They served the wider social purpose of demonstrating their holders' fitness to serve the entire medieval community.

Today's ceremony stems from the medieval tradition. The procession of the guild of teachers, whose solemn assembly, or convocation, is the modern equivalent of the medieval magna congregatio of all faculties, is led by the Chancellor and the Chief Marshal carrying the mace, the symbol of the University's corporate authority. The academic gowns, hoods, and caps, once the sober, disciplined dress of secular clergy and teachers, declare in their various designs and colors the academic qualifications of the Faculty. The citations and presentations by the Faculty to the Chancellor attest to him and to society the degree of proficiency attained by the students of the University. There follows a visible and public act whereby the universitas magistrorum, acting through its Chancellor, confers upon the students the appropriate degree. It is the act, not a certificate, which constitutes the validity of the degree bestowed. More, the formula, "I admit you" and the placing of the students' hands within the hands of the Chancellor and his associates, bind the students in the appropriate degree to the universitas magistrorum. The students thereafter bear for all time the mark of their association with this University. They have received what the University has been and presently is. Because they bear in themselves the promise of the future, they are what the University hopes to be. Despite its solemnity, convocation is a joyous occasion.

The history of academic dress reaches far back into early days of the oldest universities. A statute of 1321 required that all "Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors" of the University Coimbra wear gowns. In England, in the second half of the fourteenth century, the statutes of certain colleges forbade "excess apparel" and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. It is still a controversial question as to whether academic dress finds its sources chiefly in ecclesiastical or in civilian dress. Gowns may have been counted necessary for warmth in the unheated buildings frequented by medieval scholars. Hoods seem to have served to cover the tonsured head until superseded for that purpose by the skull cap. This was itself displaced by a headdress more or less like one or another of those now recognized as "academic." (The mortar board—the hard, square cap commonly used as academic headdress today—evolved from the softer, more flexible "square cap" introduced in England about 1490. It is named for the square board on a handle used by stone masons for holding the mixed mortar to be applied to walls.) Both Cambridge and Oxford have made academic dress a matter of university control to the extent of even its minor details and have repeatedly issued revised regulations. In Laudian days in Oxford it was prescribed that any tailor who departed from authorized design "even by a nail's breadth" in the making of any article of collegiate costume was to be punished by the vice-chancellor of the university.

Academic dress at the University of Alberta generally follows the prescription of Cambridge University in the design of the gown, and that of Oxford University in the design of the hood. See the Academic Dress page in this program for a detailed description of the academic dress at this institution.

In addition to the apparel worn by holders of degrees conferred by the University of Alberta, a collection of apparel specific to particular offices has also been developed. The President of the University wears a green gown faced with gold braid trim and lining and a green cap with a gold tassel. The Chancellor and Chancellors Emeriti wear gowns of teal blue with silver trim and black caps with silver tassels. The gowns of the senior officials bear an embroidered crest of the University. University Governors and Senators wear stoles bearing the crest of the University over their gowns: gold for Governors and green for Senators. The University Registrar wears a green gown with gold trim on the sleeves.

Graduates and staff of the University of Alberta who wish to purchase their own academic apparel are invited to contact the Convocation Officer in the Office of the Registrar and Student Awards.

On November 15, 1909, a motion by the faculty recommended to the Senate the adoption by the University of the provincial coat of arms, with the addition of an open book above the shield and the motto Lux et Lex; the words "University of Alberta" were to be attached as might seem fit. The present motto was substituted in January 1911 for the one originally proposed. In 1950 the representation of the coat of arms was altered to conform better to the principles of heraldic design but these arms were never actually registered.

In 1994 a new coat of arms incorporating a number of traditional symbols associated with the University or the Province, or with learning, was officially granted by the Canadian Heraldic Authority. In non-technical language, it consists of the following elements:

Shield: a representation of the topography of Alberta (wheat fields, hills, rivers, and the Rocky Mountains) derived from the provincial coat of arms, and a book symbolizing learning.

Crest: a Great Horned Owl, the provincial bird and a traditional symbol of wisdom.

Supporters: a pronghorn, taken from the provincial coat of arms, and a golden bear, long the University mascot, standing on a mound of wild roses, the floral emblem of Alberta.

Motto: Quaecumque vera ("Whatsoever things are true," Philippians 4:8)

The arms are copyrighted and may not be used without permission of the Board of Governors. The name of the University is similarly protected.

University Traditions

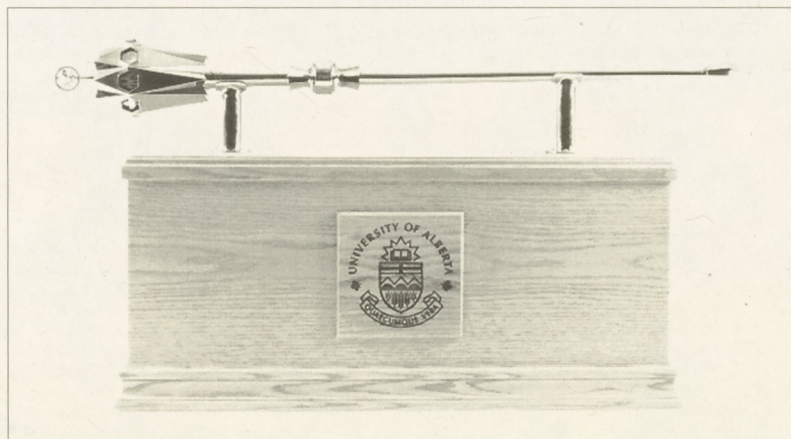

Mace and Ceremonial Chairs

The University of Alberta Mace was designed and crafted specifically for the University as a gift from Dr Francis Phillip Galbraith, Chancellor of the University of Alberta from 1964 to 1970. Michael Galbraith presented the Mace on behalf of his father on May 26, 1970.

Among its elements are the Star of Saint Thomas Aquinas, the Patron Saint of Scholars; the Wild Rose of Alberta; the Maple Leaf; and the separate charges which make up the University's Emblem. The University motto "Quaecumque Vera" ("Whatsoever Things Are True" Phil 4:8) encircles the staff. The Mace is made of sterling silver which was rhodium plated after the insertion of the various enamelled shields which make up its elements. A special electroplate process was used to apply 24 karat gold to other parts of the Mace.

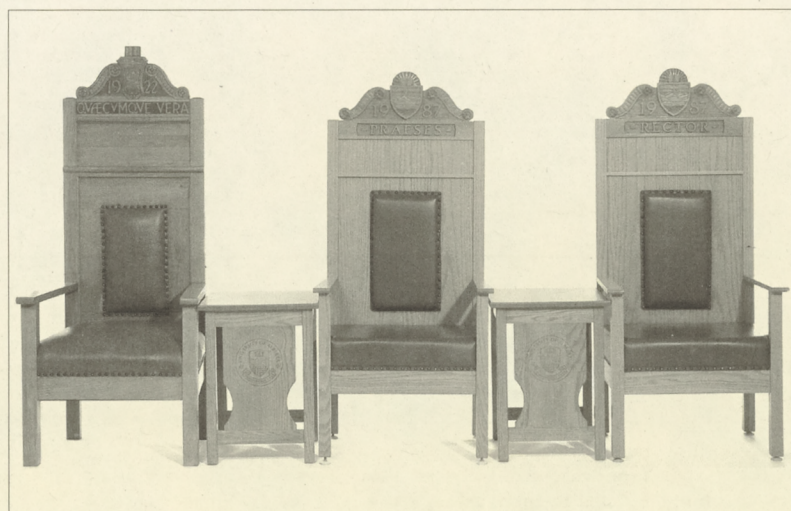

It was intended that the Mace should be modern in appearance but with medieval origins. The preponderance of visual weight at the top of the staff and the rather complex section through the metalwork at this point are reminiscent of the use of the mace as a weapon, defensive or aggressive.

The Mace is carried before the Chancellor, or Vice-Chancellor, in procession and rests on its stand in full view of the assembly during Convocation. Centuries ago the Mace was a symbol of authority over life and death. Today it represents power — but the power of knowledge and the importance of the University in the community.

The Chancellor's Chair was presented to the University of Alberta as a gift from the 1922 graduating class. It is made of solid oak with a padded leather back and seat. Above the padded-leather back is carved the University motto "Quaecumque Vera" together with the class year, 1922, and the University emblem.

In 1987, the family and friends of Dr Charles Malcolm Macleod, Chair of the Board of Governors from 1950 to 1966, presented a memorial gift to the University of an oak stand for the University of Alberta Mace and two additional chairs for use by the President and the Chair of the Board of Governors at Convocation.

Ceremonial Colors

Academic Dress

All undergraduate and master's degree gowns are the customary Cambridge shape, i.e., a gown of black material falling below the knee with full sleeves cut to the elbow and terminating in a point. Hoods are made in the Oxford pattern of spruce green material. The Bachelor's hood has a border three inches wide of the color distinctive of the Faculty as noted below. The Masters' hood has a full lining of the color distinctive of the Faculty also noted below. Mortarboards are the standard black trencher shape with black tassels, which are worn forward and to the left.

Doctorate Degrees

Doctors' gowns (PhD, DMus, and EdD) conform to the Intercollegiate Code in design. They are made of black material and the velvet trim on the sleeves is Philosophy Blue for the PhD and DMus, and Education Light Blue for the EdD. Doctors' hoods conform to the Intercollegiate Code in shape, size, and color. They are made of black material to match the gown, and have a full lining of gold satin with a six-inch green satin chevron. The velvet trim distinguishes the two degrees and matches the velvet trim on the gown's sleeves. There is a narrow green piping where the gold lining joins the black material. Mortarboards are the standard black trencher shape with black tassels, which are worn forward and to the left.

Honorary Doctorates

Honorary Doctors of Laws (LLD), Letters (DLitt), and Science (DSc) wear a scarlet robe faced with white silk. Hoods are made in the Cambridge form of scarlet silk with a full lining of white silk. Caps are black velvet with a gold tassel.
